ARTICLE 1: EXTENSIVE DEFINITIONS AND INTERPRETATIONS

1.1 "Definition Term 1" means any and all data, metadata, text, graphics, audio, video, or other digital content, regardless of format, that is processed, stored, or transmitted through the Service Provider's proprietary infrastructure under this specific agreement. This explicitly includes any derivatives, modifications, or enhancements made during the course of the engagement, but strictly excludes pre-existing intellectual property defined under Article 8. Furthermore, this term encompasses all sub-components detailed in Schedule B, subject to the regulatory constraints of the applicable data protection laws in the designated jurisdiction.

1.2 "Definition Term 2" means any and all data, metadata, text, graphics, audio, video, or other digital content, regardless of format, that is processed, stored, or transmitted through the Service Provider's proprietary infrastructure under this specific agreement. This explicitly includes any derivatives, modifications, or enhancements made during the course of the engagement, but strictly excludes pre-existing intellectual property defined under Article 8. Furthermore, this term encompasses all sub-components detailed in Schedule B, subject to the regulatory constraints of the applicable data protection laws in the designated jurisdiction.

1.3 "Definition Term 3" means any and all data, metadata, text, graphics, audio, video, or other digital content, regardless of format, that is processed, stored, or transmitted through the Service Provider's proprietary infrastructure under this specific agreement. This explicitly includes any derivatives, modifications, or enhancements made during the course of the engagement, but strictly excludes pre-existing intellectual property defined under Article 8. Furthermore, this term encompasses all sub-components detailed in Schedule B, subject to the regulatory constraints of the applicable data protection laws in the designated jurisdiction.

1.4 "Definition Term 4" means any and all data, metadata, text, graphics, audio, video, or other digital content, regardless of format, that is processed, stored, or transmitted through the Service Provider's proprietary infrastructure under this specific agreement. This explicitly includes any derivatives, modifications, or enhancements made during the course of the engagement, but strictly excludes pre-existing intellectual property defined under Article 8. Furthermore, this term encompasses all sub-components detailed in Schedule B, subject to the regulatory constraints of the applicable data protection laws in the designated jurisdiction.

1.5 "Definition Term 5" means any and all data, metadata, text, graphics, audio, video, or other digital content, regardless of format, that is processed, stored, or transmitted through the Service Provider's proprietary infrastructure under this specific agreement. This explicitly includes any derivatives, modifications, or enhancements made during the course of the engagement, but strictly excludes pre-existing intellectual property defined under Article 8. Furthermore, this term encompasses all sub-components detailed in Schedule B, subject to the regulatory constraints of the applicable data protection laws in the designated jurisdiction.

1.6 "Definition Term 6" means any and all data, metadata, text, graphics, audio, video, or other digital content, regardless of format, that is processed, stored, or transmitted through the Service Provider's proprietary infrastructure under this specific agreement. This explicitly includes any derivatives, modifications, or enhancements made during the course of the engagement, but strictly excludes pre-existing intellectual property defined under Article 8. Furthermore, this term encompasses all sub-components detailed in Schedule B, subject to the regulatory constraints of the applicable data protection laws in the designated jurisdiction.

1.7 "Definition Term 7" means any and all data, metadata, text, graphics, audio, video, or other digital content, regardless of format, that is processed, stored, or transmitted through the Service Provider's proprietary infrastructure under this specific agreement. This explicitly includes any derivatives, modifications, or enhancements made during the course of the engagement, but strictly excludes pre-existing intellectual property defined under Article 8. Furthermore, this term encompasses all sub-components detailed in Schedule B, subject to the regulatory constraints of the applicable data protection laws in the designated jurisdiction.

1.8 "Definition Term 8" means any and all data, metadata, text, graphics, audio, video, or other digital content, regardless of format, that is processed, stored, or transmitted through the Service Provider's proprietary infrastructure under this specific agreement. This explicitly includes any derivatives, modifications, or enhancements made during the course of the engagement, but strictly excludes pre-existing intellectual property defined under Article 8. Furthermore, this term encompasses all sub-components detailed in Schedule B, subject to the regulatory constraints of the applicable data protection laws in the designated jurisdiction.

1.9 "Definition Term 9" means any and all data, metadata, text, graphics, audio, video, or other digital content, regardless of format, that is processed, stored, or transmitted through the Service Provider's proprietary infrastructure under this specific agreement. This explicitly includes any derivatives, modifications, or enhancements made during the course of the engagement, but strictly excludes pre-existing intellectual property defined under Article 8. Furthermore, this term encompasses all sub-components detailed in Schedule B, subject to the regulatory constraints of the applicable data protection laws in the designated jurisdiction.

1.10 "Definition Term 10" means any and all data, metadata, text, graphics, audio, video, or other digital content, regardless of format, that is processed, stored, or transmitted through the Service Provider's proprietary infrastructure under this specific agreement. This explicitly includes any derivatives, modifications, or enhancements made during the course of the engagement, but strictly excludes pre-existing intellectual property defined under Article 8. Furthermore, this term encompasses all sub-components detailed in Schedule B, subject to the regulatory constraints of the applicable data protection laws in the designated jurisdiction.

1.11 "Definition Term 11" means any and all data, metadata, text, graphics, audio, video, or other digital content, regardless of format, that is processed, stored, or transmitted through the Service Provider's proprietary infrastructure under this specific agreement. This explicitly includes any derivatives, modifications, or enhancements made during the course of the engagement, but strictly excludes pre-existing intellectual property defined under Article 8. Furthermore, this term encompasses all sub-components detailed in Schedule B, subject to the regulatory constraints of the applicable data protection laws in the designated jurisdiction.

1.12 "Definition Term 12" means any and all data, metadata, text, graphics, audio, video, or other digital content, regardless of format, that is processed, stored, or transmitted through the Service Provider's proprietary infrastructure under this specific agreement. This explicitly includes any derivatives, modifications, or enhancements made during the course of the engagement, but strictly excludes pre-existing intellectual property defined under Article 8. Furthermore, this term encompasses all sub-components detailed in Schedule B, subject to the regulatory constraints of the applicable data protection laws in the designated jurisdiction.

1.13 "Definition Term 13" means any and all data, metadata, text, graphics, audio, video, or other digital content, regardless of format, that is processed, stored, or transmitted through the Service Provider's proprietary infrastructure under this specific agreement. This explicitly includes any derivatives, modifications, or enhancements made during the course of the engagement, but strictly excludes pre-existing intellectual property defined under Article 8. Furthermore, this term encompasses all sub-components detailed in Schedule B, subject to the regulatory constraints of the applicable data protection laws in the designated jurisdiction.

Furthermore, this term encompasses all sub-components detailed in Schedule B, subject to the regulatory constraints of the applicable data protection laws in the designated jurisdiction.

ARTICLE 2: SCOPE OF SERVICES AND GRANT OF RIGHTS

2.1 General Provision regarding Scope

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 2.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to scope of services and grant of rights. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

2.2 General Provision regarding Scope

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 2.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to scope of services and grant of rights. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

2.3 General Provision regarding Scope

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 2.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to scope of services and grant of rights. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

2.4 General Provision regarding Scope

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 2.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to scope of services and grant of rights. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

ARTICLE 3: USAGE RESTRICTIONS AND ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY

3.1 General Provision regarding Usage

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 3.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to usage restrictions and acceptable use policy. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

3.2 General Provision regarding Usage

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 3.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to usage restrictions and acceptable use policy. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

3.3 General Provision regarding Usage

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 3.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to usage restrictions and acceptable use policy. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

3.4 General Provision regarding Usage

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 3.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to usage restrictions and acceptable use policy. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

ARTICLE 4: SERVICE LEVEL AGREEMENT (SLA) COMMITMENTS

4.1 General Provision regarding Service

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 4.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to service level agreement (sla) commitments. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

4.1.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

4.2 General Provision regarding Service

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 4.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to service level agreement (sla) commitments. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

4.3 General Provision regarding Service

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 4.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to service level agreement (sla) commitments. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

4.4 General Provision regarding Service

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 4.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to service level agreement (sla) commitments. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

4.4.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

6.3 General Provision regarding Customer

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 6.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to customer obligations and data provisioning. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

6.4 General Provision regarding Customer

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 6.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to customer obligations and data provisioning. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

ARTICLE 7: DATA SECURITY, ENCRYPTION, AND BREACH PROTOCOLS

7.1 General Provision regarding Data

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 7.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to data security, encryption, and breach protocols. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

7.2 General Provision regarding Data

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 7.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to data security, encryption, and breach protocols. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

7.3 General Provision regarding Data

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 7.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to data security, encryption, and breach protocols. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

7.4 General Provision regarding Data

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 7.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to data security, encryption, and breach protocols. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

ARTICLE 8: DATA PROCESSING ADDENDUM (DPA) AND PRIVACY

8.1 General Provision regarding Data

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 8.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to data processing addendum (dpa) and privacy. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

8.2 General Provision regarding Data

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 8.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to data processing addendum (dpa) and privacy. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

8.3 General Provision regarding Data

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 8.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to data processing addendum (dpa) and privacy. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

8.4 General Provision regarding Data

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 8.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to data processing addendum (dpa) and privacy. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

ARTICLE 9: INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY: BACKGROUND AND FOREGROUND

9.1 General Provision regarding Intellectual

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 9.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to intellectual property: background and foreground. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

9.1.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

9.3 General Provision regarding Intellectual

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 9.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to intellectual property: background and foreground. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

9.4 General Provision regarding Intellectual

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 9.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to intellectual property: background and foreground. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

ARTICLE 10: CONFIDENTIALITY AND MUTUAL NON-DISCLOSURE OBLIGATIONS

10.1 General Provision regarding Confidentiality

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 10.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to confidentiality and mutual non-disclosure obligations. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

10.2 General Provision regarding Confidentiality

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 10.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to confidentiality and mutual non-disclosure obligations. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

10.3 General Provision regarding Confidentiality

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 10.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to confidentiality and mutual non-disclosure obligations. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

10.4 General Provision regarding Confidentiality

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 10.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to confidentiality and mutual non-disclosure obligations. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

ARTICLE 11: FEES, BILLING MECHANICS, AND DISPUTED CHARGES

11.1 General Provision regarding Fees,

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 11.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to fees, billing mechanics, and disputed charges. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

13.1 General Provision regarding Representations,

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 13.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to representations, warranties, and covenants. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

13.2 General Provision regarding Representations,

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 13.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to representations, warranties, and covenants. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

13.2.2 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

13.3 General Provision regarding Representations,

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 13.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to representations, warranties, and covenants. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

13.4 General Provision regarding Representations,

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 13.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to representations, warranties, and covenants. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

13.4.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

ARTICLE 14: INDEMNIFICATION OBLIGATIONS BY SERVICE PROVIDER

14.1 General Provision regarding Indemnification

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 14.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to indemnification obligations by service provider. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

14.1.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

14.2 General Provision regarding Indemnification

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 14.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to indemnification obligations by service provider. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

14.3 General Provision regarding Indemnification

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 14.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to indemnification obligations by service provider. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

14.4 General Provision regarding Indemnification

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 14.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to indemnification obligations by service provider. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

ARTICLE 16: LIMITATION OF LIABILITY AND FINANCIAL CAPS

16.1 General Provision regarding Limitation

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 16.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to limitation of liability and financial caps. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

16.1.2 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

16.2 General Provision regarding Limitation

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 16.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to limitation of liability and financial caps. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

16.2.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

16.2.2 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

16.3 General Provision regarding Limitation

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 16.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to limitation of liability and financial caps. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

16.3.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

16.4 General Provision regarding Limitation

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 16.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to limitation of liability and financial caps. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

16.4.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

ARTICLE 17: EXCLUSIONS TO LIMITATIONS OF LIABILITY

17.1 General Provision regarding Exclusions

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 17.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to exclusions to limitations of liability. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

17.1.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

17.2 General Provision regarding Exclusions

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 17.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to exclusions to limitations of liability. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

17.2.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

17.2.2 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

17.3 General Provision regarding Exclusions

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 17.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to exclusions to limitations of liability. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

17.3.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

17.4 General Provision regarding Exclusions

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 17.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to exclusions to limitations of liability. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

17.4.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

ARTICLE 18: TERM, AUTO-RENEWAL MECHANISMS, AND EXPIRATION

18.1 General Provision regarding Term,

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 18.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to term, auto-renewal mechanisms, and expiration. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

18.1.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

18.2 General Provision regarding Term,

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 18.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to term, auto-renewal mechanisms, and expiration. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

18.2.2 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

18.3 General Provision regarding Term,

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 18.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to term, auto-renewal mechanisms, and expiration. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

18.3.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

18.4 General Provision regarding Term,

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 18.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to term, auto-renewal mechanisms, and expiration. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

ARTICLE 19: TERMINATION FOR CAUSE AND MATERIAL BREACH

19.1 General Provision regarding Termination

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 19.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to termination for cause and material breach. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

19.1.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

19.2 General Provision regarding Termination

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 19.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to termination for cause and material breach. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

19.2.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

19.3 General Provision regarding Termination

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 19.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to termination for cause and material breach. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

19.3.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

19.4 General Provision regarding Termination

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 19.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to termination for cause and material breach. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

19.4.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

ARTICLE 20: EFFECT OF TERMINATION AND TRANSITION SERVICES

20.1 General Provision regarding Effect

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 20.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to effect of termination and transition services. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

20.1.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

20.1.2 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

20.2 General Provision regarding Effect

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 20.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to effect of termination and transition services. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

20.2.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

20.2.2 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

20.3 General Provision regarding Effect

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 20.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to effect of termination and transition services. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

20.3.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

20.3.2 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

20.4 General Provision regarding Effect

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 20.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to effect of termination and transition services. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

20.4.2 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

ARTICLE 21: AUDIT RIGHTS AND COMPLIANCE VERIFICATION

21.1 General Provision regarding Audit

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 21.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to audit rights and compliance verification. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

22.4 General Provision regarding Insurance

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 22.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to insurance coverages and minimum policy limits. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

22.4.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

22.4.2 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

ARTICLE 23: FORCE MAJEURE AND EXCUSED PERFORMANCE

23.1 General Provision regarding Force

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 23.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to force majeure and excused performance. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

23.1.2 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

23.2 General Provision regarding Force

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 23.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to force majeure and excused performance. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

23.2.2 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

23.3 General Provision regarding Force

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 23.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to force majeure and excused performance. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

23.3.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

23.4 General Provision regarding Force

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 23.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to force majeure and excused performance. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

23.4.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

ARTICLE 24: GOVERNING LAW, JURISDICTION, AND VENUE

24.1 General Provision regarding Governing

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 24.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to governing law, jurisdiction, and venue. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

24.1.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

24.1.2 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

24.2 General Provision regarding Governing

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 24.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to governing law, jurisdiction, and venue. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

24.2.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

24.3 General Provision regarding Governing

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 24.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to governing law, jurisdiction, and venue. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

24.3.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

24.4 General Provision regarding Governing

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 24.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to governing law, jurisdiction, and venue. Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

24.4.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

24.4.3 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

ARTICLE 26: GENERAL PROVISIONS (SEVERABILITY, WAIVER, NOTICES)

26.1 General Provision regarding General

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 26.1 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to general provisions (severability, waiver, notices). Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

26.1.2 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

26.2 General Provision regarding General

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 26.2 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to general provisions (severability, waiver, notices). Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

26.2.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

26.2.2 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

26.3 General Provision regarding General

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 26.3 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to general provisions (severability, waiver, notices). Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

26.3.1 Specific Regulatory and Operational Requirement. In direct furtherance of the baseline expectations established above, the Client expressly reserves the right to request comprehensive audit documentation validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.

26.4 General Provision regarding General

The Parties agree that the obligations set forth in this Section 26.4 are material to the execution and ongoing maintenance of this Agreement. The Service Provider shall employ commercially reasonable efforts, consistent with the highest industry best practices (including ISO 27001, SOC 2 Type II, and PCI-DSS standards where applicable), to fulfill all responsibilities related to general provisions (severability, waiver, notices). Any failure to adhere to these structural standards shall trigger the formal notification protocols defined in Article 25, allowing a strict thirty (30) day cure period before unilateral escalation is permitted.

validating compliance with this specific sub-tier requirement. The Service Provider must furnish such records, logs, and architectural diagrams within exactly ten (10) business days of written receipt. If the documentation reveals a systemic discrepancy exceeding acceptable industry tolerances (defined as a deviation of greater than 2.5% from baseline metrics), the Service Provider shall absorb all costs associated with remediation, independent of and separate from the liability caps established in Article 15. Furthermore, this specific subclause remains fully binding upon any permitted subcontractors, affiliates, or third-party vendors engaged pursuant to Schedule C.
